

CALENDAR OF 2021 UPCOMING WORKSHOPS

The calendar of 2021 workshops that were originally planned has been seriously impacted by the Covid-19 pandemic. Unfortunately, though not unexpectedly, many of the workshops which were to be conducted in person in 2021 have been cancelled due to health constraints and social distancing considerations. Nonetheless, the Workshop Committee is actively working to develop workshops for 2021 which can be safely offered, at least in the near term, in an online environment. Necessarily, replacing cancelled workshops with new online offerings is a fluid and evolving process; and, accordingly, when new workshops become sufficiently confirmed, we will update this calendar. For now, the following workshops warrant inclusion in the calendar, though, as noted below, certain workshop dates are still in flux and in one case, because it was scheduled to be in-person, remains tentatively on the schedule; and time will tell whether that workshop will proceed.

1. Carol DuBosch

“Tune-Up Your Italic“

January 9, 2021 ; Online via Zoom

(Class is full, registration is closed)

2. Jurgen Vercaemst

“Letters Got Rhythm: Adventures in Built-Up Italic and Companion Hands”

February 22, 23 and March 1, 8 and 15. Online via Zoom.

(Registration opens January 4, 2021)

3. Julie Wildman

Julie will teach two workshops, both of which will be two full days and will feature Her creative lettering styles. Specific workshop titles and course description should be available by the end of January.

Dates: Late March- Early April, 202 to be finalized soon Online via Zoom.

(Registration will open in mid-February and ample advance notice will be given.)

4. Elmo Van Slingerland (Tentative and currently planned as in-person)

October 14-15: Gestural Calligraphy

October 16-17: Letter Drawing—Roman Capitals

(Registration Date to be later announced)

